The sights of summers

gone.....

It seems that summer has barely begun when already signs of autumn are creeping in. In our hedgerows blackberries are ripening, ready to be turned into the Jams, Pies and crumbles that the Grayswood households make so beautifully.

The horse chestnuts are fattening up nicely ready for the inevitable plundering by the children to either begin another year of conker fights, or to just hoard them away and eniov their beautiful rich colour and pattern (whilst hiding them from over eager siblings and friends less they get stolen for conker fights!) I remember quite clearly trying everything to make my conkers the hardest in the playground, baking them, doing strange things with vinegar, varnishing them... none of it helped of course, I was just rubbish at playing conkers and more often than not hit mine or my opponents knuck-

More often than not though September brings lovely sunny evenings for those returning from work, lovely quiet days for parents with children returning to school and generally that pleasant sensation of time passing gently along in the inevitable way it does.

Time to open a nice bottle of wine I think.....

Dear friends

My uncle came home from a visit to his sister in New Zealand, puzzled that the sun appeared to rise in the west. He knew it couldn't but couldn't figure out why. It wasn't until I visited Australia myself that I even understood his problem.

During my first trip, I completely lost my sense of direction, and it took a while for it to dawn on me that in the southern hemisphere the sun is in the northern sky. It 'travels' from right to left, so if your mindset tells you sun is south, the sun does appear to rise in the west. Even now, after several visits, I still have to remind myself of that before I know which way I'm going! Mindsets are powerful; they lie deep within us, and can blind us to other ways of seeing, or lead us to falsely interpret or even dismiss them.

I met a man in my son-in-law's office in Sydney last week, who, hearing I was a 'vicar', immediately said 'I'm a history man myself'. He revealed a mindset which assumes that Christianity is in conflict with history and science. Sadly he's not alone; many have also been led to believe that all Christians understand every part of the Bible completely literally - a position which in fact has only been held at all since the mid 19th century and by relatively few. The vast majority of Christians - and Jews, whose Bible we share - agree that, although science and theology have indeed had their problems with each other over the centuries, they are not mutually exclusive. They do not address the same questions or use language in the same way.

A mindset which does not allow for another view or cannot broaden its vision surely needs challenging. Take Richard Dawkins, for example; he is so entrenched, that he does not see he dismisses a god whom Christians also dismiss and a Bible which he has misunderstood.

How do Christians read the Bible then? To be continued

.....With my very best wishes

Barbara

All Saints Matters

Sunday Services

8.00 am Holy Communion every week

10.00 am services are very accommodating for families with young children—we have crèche facilities, fun for older children at Sunday School, and really don't mind if children make a bit of noise in church either! In fact we particularly encourage children to enjoy our church and join in with the first part of our service.

1st Sunday: Parish Communion 2nd Sunday: Morning Worship 3rd Sunday: Parish Communion 4th Sunday: All age Morning Worship 5th Sunday we usually join with St Bart's or St Christopher's, either in Grayswood or Haslemere—see notices on the Church Door!

Evening Services are occasional but are advertised in the village.

Mondays at 9 am (not Bank Holidays) - a short meditative service which follows the pattern of the Church since its early days

Thursdays at 10.15 am

1st and 3rd Thursday Holy Communion using the BCP (old prayer book)

5th Thursday—Modern Iona style Communion Service

At all services we pray for people in any sort of need. If you would like us to pray for someone in particular - or be prayed for yourself (we need only a first name and you don't have to give a reason), either pop a note into Church House, leave a message on the answerphone, write in the book at the back of church, or ask someone to pass the message on.

Sacred space

The church building is usually open every day from about 9am until dusk in winter, about 6pm in summer. It's a peaceful place to think, meditate, dream, pray.

!! Glorious Grayswood !!

The Grayswood Village Hall committee along with many of the regular village hall users are beginning to think about plans for a Glorious Grayswood weekend next summer. Provisionally this will take the form of an evening event on a Saturday and a traditional Fete on the Sunday, though of course at this stage it's totally changeable and nothing is certain!! The aim would be to bring the whole village together for a great weekend and raise a little money if possible!

An organising committee of willing volunteers will be set up but there will be many ways in which you could help and support if a committee is not your thing!! If you have any ideas, would like to help organise things, design a logo, have great sponsorship contacts, work in a printers, own a jukebox, sing in a band, bake great cakes etc etc.... then please in the first instance email us at Glorious.Grayswood@gmail.com We're just at the gathering information stage so whatever you have to share please let us know and we hope you'll be as excited as us about what could be a really great village event!
