

Dear all,

I'm writing this the day after Boris has announced his roadmap out of lockdown and the sun has been shining. I don't know about you but considering that January seemed to go on for ever, February seems to have whizzed past.

We are now into the season of Lent, traditionally a period of self-discipline and waiting for the joy that Easter will eventually bring. Whilst it has often been a time of fasting and for giving up things that we enjoy, allowing for reflection on our journey with God, this year I have chosen to take up things which give joy, a theme that is running through our Lent course. This has included making time to read every day, not just for the few minutes before I fall asleep at night. The Orthodox Christians describe Lent as a time of 'bright sadness' which certainly seems to resonate this year. Given all the things that we have missed out on this past year, being able to look forward and to tentatively make plans is a comforting thought.

Given that we live in such a beautiful part of the world I have been enjoying Brian Draper's Lent course which focuses a lot on the great outdoors. If you haven't come across him then I would encourage you to visit his website <https://www.briandraper.org> and watch his Winter Wander video. It really does give you a sense of peace and tranquillity in what is still a very unsettled world. It has changed the way I think and feel when I am out walking Colbie in the woods.

Whilst churches have been able to remain open during this latest lockdown the PCC and I took the decision that it just didn't seem the safe thing to do. We are, however, delighted that we will be resuming services in church, starting on Easter Sunday 4th April. We will still have to limit numbers, for the time being, and unless another announcement is made, we still can't sing, but it is a positive step in the right direction. Details of how to book a seat are on the website.

I hope that you can get out and enjoy the warmer, drier weather and that if you haven't had it already that your vaccination date will come around very soon.

With love and prayers for you all, Fi x

WHAT'S ON DURING LENT AND EASTER

RELEASING JOY THIS LENT - We are travelling through such dark times now and yet God's joy and hope are ever present. Lent begins 17 February, but Lent is not just a time when we 'give up' our favourite indulgence, it is a season when we can give ourselves permission to pause awhile and 'open our eyes' to God's love, joy and presence in our lives and in the world.

We are hosting short weekly sessions as opportunities for us to pray and reflect together.

THANK YOU FOR THE FLOWERS

After 50 years of service, Joanne Thomson is hanging up her secateurs! Joanne has brought her wonderful artistic flair to the flowers at All Saints Grayswood for half a century with her arrangements greatly admired by a many a visitor and worshipper. THANK YOU Joanne for sharing your time and your talents.

We also said a fond farewell recently to Judy Culhane after many years on the flower rota or organising it herself. Judy had a very beautiful fluid style similar to Constance Spry – ideal for weddings – we will miss her smile, organisation and talent.

With lockdown easing, it would be good to add to our numbers to arrange flowers in church for Sunday services and festivals*. Please give it some thought, you don't have to be brilliant, the church just benefits from colour and arranging flowers is art, never wrong. You do not need to be a master flower arranger – you could be the Picasso of flowers!

Come and join our friendly team.

Call or email Sasi for a friendly chat:

01428 480666, sasicave@gmail.com

*We supply oasis/floral tape and flowers for the festivals (you supply flowers at other times for a pedestal arrangement).
